UNHEARD OF SILENCE

Strange Secrecy About the News From Hawaii.

NO ONE SEEM READY TO TALK.

Captain Munger of the Revenue Cutter Corwin acknowledges that the Auckland Dispatches are true, but will say no more—the Corwin not yet landed. Everyone silent in Washington.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—The attitude of Captain Munger of the revenue cutter Corwin toward the representatives of the press and public in general, is without precedent in this port. From the moment the Corwin arrived, the men on board have been as inaccessible as if they were in midocean, save for the brief interview that a reporter had with Captain Munger Saturday evening, when the captain went ashore in his gig to mail a packet of letters.

The captain saw fit to go ashore with the letters himself rather than trust a messenger, who might let some lot of news drop by accident, or otherwise under reportorial pressure. It was when on shore this time for a very few minutes that the Corwin's captain talked with a reporter, and verified the correctness of the Auckland telegram to the Associated Press. He also stated that the Corwin left Honolulu Dec. 24. The reporter quotes Captain Munger as follows:

"I can tell you no more than came in that Auckland dispatch. It is no pleasure for me to hold news or information from the people, but then you must remember that I am powerless in the matter myself. Even if I knew the contents of the secret dispatches, as an officer and gentleman, I could not reveal them without permission. Here I am within 20 minutes of my home, and can not get away. It's no pleasure, I assure you. But I will have to stay here for three or four days or maybe a week."

When asked directly whether any revolution had occurred at Honolulu, and whether the provisional government was still in power, Captain Munger would only reiterate his statement that he could say no more than was contained in the Auckland dispatch.

The cutter is still lying about a mile from San Quentin penitentiary and over 10 miles from this city. So far as getting any news from her, she might as well be in Behring sea. No one is allowed on board, and not one of her crew has been allowed over the side of the vessel.

Since her arrival, the cutter has been besieged by reporters in Whitehall boats, but all along the approach of a small boat has been the signal for one of the cutter's officers to appear on deck, when sailors would be ordered from the rail and cautioned to maintain silence. Once officers were caught unawares and a seaman started to talk. A reporter asked him the latest news from Honolulu. "Hell's a poppin' down there," was the decidedly expressive reply of the sailor, but he was allowed to say no more, for an officer appeared and ordered him below.

Just what this strange silence means, no one here seems to comprehend. People here generally believe that there have been stirring times in Honolulu. The unheard of secrecy on board the Corwin, despite the eagerness of the sailors to talk, would seem to indicate that the sailors have an interesting story to tell, if the men were only allowed a ghost of a chance to ventilate their information.

San Francisco papers are bristling with severe criticism of the authorities responsible for the suppression of the news that the Corwin's men might make public.

NO NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

Government Officials Will Have Nothing to Say on the Hawaiian Question.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—There is a feeling of much expectancy on the Hawaiian question, and congressmen familiar with the subject say they would not be surprised if President Cleveland sent another Hawaiian message to congress today. Should the president adopt this course congress and public will receive official information within a few hours ahead of the arrival of steamers at San Francisco and Vancouver, bringing full information of Minister Willis' moves.

A steamer left Honolulu on Jan. 1 for Vancouver, and allowing eight days for her voyage, she will be in on Tuesday. The City of Peking also left Honolulu on Jan. 2 for San Francisco, and although she sailed later her trip is shorter, and she will also be due by Tuesday.

The information brought by the revenue cutter Corwin can not, therefore, be kept a secret much longer, as the two steamers will bring all except the purely official information. It is for this reason that members of congress are counting on another Hawaiian message today, as they say the president and Secretary Gresham will probably prefer to advise congress and the public as to the situation rather than have the news made public through the incoming steamers.

When Secretary Gresham was seen he stated that there was absolutely nothing to be given out on the Hawaiian question, and that there would not be until the arrival of the mail advices. It is understood now that the dispatches obtained are rather meager and that the administration prefers to wait for full advices before making anything public.

HAS MINISTER WILLIS RETURNED?

A Rumor That He Is or Was on the Revenue Cutter Corwin.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—A rumor was current last night to the effect that Minister Willis had been given his passport and was aboard the Corwin. Up to the present time nothing has developed to corroborate the rumor and it is generally discredited.

Though considered quite probable that the minister has been tendered passports, it is not believed he is on board the Corwin, nor that he was a passenger on her. The unprecedented action of the Corwin's officers, however, might indicate the truth of the story, for it is certain they are concealing some important fact from the public, and it may be that the minister to Hawaii is hidden in her cabin.

When the Corwin steamed in through the Golden Gate her commander refused to receive even officers of the revenue patrol steamer Hartley, telling them they were not wanted. The cutter then steamed south, approaching the southern shore and at a point off Harbor View, a small boat was lowered and one man at ashore. This individual was never seen by any of the newspaper men, nor was he recognized by anyone else.

It was supposed, however, that the man put ashore was an officer of the cutter entrusted with dispatches for Washington authorities. So far as known the man never returned to the Corwin. As soon as the cutter's small boat returned from shore, the Corwin steamed directly across the channel to Sausalito and thence to San Quentin, where she now lies. No one else has left her so far as known. If Minister Willis was the man put ashore, careful search has failed to bring his whereabouts to light.

It is almost a foregone conclusion, however, that Minister Willis would not sail from Honolulu and leave Mrs. Willis behind. That she has not landed here is almost beyond doubt. Not is it believed that any woman is on board the Corwin, else a glimpse of her would have been had by the many reporters who have closely watched the cutter since her appearance in the harbor.

The Mohican Not Ordered to Honolulu.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Regarding the report from San Francisco that the Mohican is being placed in readiness to sail for Honolulu, the secretary of the navy said last night: "The Mohican is in the same condition that it has been for a month, namely in a condition of general readiness, but I have not issued any orders to her."

Looking For the Miowera.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—The Canadian Pacific steamship Miowera, which went on a reef at Honolulu, is expected to arrive here at any hour and a close watch is being kept for her. The Miowera is coming here for repairs.

Blount Called to Washington.

Macon, Jan. 8.—Hon. James T. Blount has received a telegram from Washington calling him before the Hawaiian committee. He left for the capital.

TRAIN HELD UP.

Three Men Attempt to Rob a Train But Are Scared Away.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 8.—The Mississippi Valley passenger train that arrived here at 8:05 Sunday morning, was held up at the crossing of the Vicksburg and Meridian railroad, just south of Vicksburg, at 1:05 a. m. The train was stopping at the railroad crossing, waiting for the Vicksburg and Meridian train to pass when it was boarded by two masked men. A third man was standing guard on the track.

Conductor Morris, in an interview, gave the following account of what happened on the train:

"We were just a few minutes out from the Vicksburg station, and had reached the Alabama and Vicksburg road's crossing in the suburbs of the city. The train always stops at this point and the engineer waits for someone to come and flag the train. I was in the second car of the train. It is divided into two compartments, the part in front of the partition being a passenger compartment and the rear end the baggage room. I was standing in the front part of this rear compartment with Mr. Dorsey, the baggage master, when I heard a man yell: 'Hold up your hands!'"

"I looked through the door and saw two men, both masked, marching the porter down the aisle towards us. One fellow was a big man, weighing, I judge, about 160 pounds. He kept us covered while his partner, a small, nervous fellow, went through our pockets. The little man was evidently new at the business. Dorsey was searched first. He had no gun and nothing was taken from him. Then they turned their attention to me. I had no weapon. He left a $10 bill in my vest pocket and other little articles which I had in other pockets. They then marched me to the expresscar and ordered me to open the door. I told them the door was bolted. 'Then kick it in,' said the big man, and I kicked. I was still kicking on the door when the porter, finding himself uncovered by the men's guns, leaped from the train and rushed to the rear. The two men jumped out and a moment later disappeared in the darkness."

"Just as the men got off the train, the express messenger opened the expresscar. The robbers evidently became frightened when they saw the porter jump off and run to the rear. All the time we were being searched, the engineer kept blowing his whistle for someone to come and flag the Alabama and Vicksburg crossing. It is the porter's business to do this. The engineer said we were stopped eight minutes at the crossing. When the robbers appeared, I was looking over a circular and when I heard the order to hold up my hands, I thought it was possibly a joke of some fellows about the roundhouse nearby and did not hold up both my hands at once, but held up one, the other hanging down with the circular in it. I received a reminder that both hands must go up in a voice that meant business. I obeyed. The men held pistols to our heads all the time."

James Buchanan of Indianapolis, lawyer, politician and inventor, died Saturday, aged 57 years. He was known as "Plan" Buchanan.

EXTREME MEASURES

They Will Be Resorted to in the House of Congress.

TRYING TO SECURE A QUORUM.

Members Absent Without Leave Will Be Arrested—The Tariff Bill or a Row Will Occupy the Week in the House—Probable Program of Both the House and Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The tariff bill will occupy the entire attention of the house during the coming week, or, if not, the bill itself, then the row over the attempt to get it before the house. After four days of fruitless efforts to secure the presence of a voting Democratic quorum, the house adopted just before adjournment Saturday night the extreme expedient of ordering the arrest of all members absent without leave. Deputies were sent out in all directions to serve the warrants on these members. Of the 40 members absent without leave, 21 are Democrats and 19 Republicans.

As some of them live at long distances they can hardly get here today and a quorum is therefore doubtful, although the Democratic leaders express their confident hope that 179 voting Democrats will be in their seats when the gavel drops at noon. From the Republican absentees, of course, no aid is expected. They can be brought here under duress, but they can't be made to vote. This applies to some of the Democrats as well as Republicans, and if the opposition within the ranks of the Democratic majority can be organized, as some of them desire, enough Democratic members might refrain from voting to prevent the consideration of the bill in its present shape.

Privately some of the Democrats do not hesitate to admit the gravity of the situation. The possibility of defeating the consideration of the bill strikes terror into their hearts, and some of them, like Colonel Oates of Alabama, openly advocate a resort to the parliamentary expedient utilized by the Fifty-first congress of counting a quorum. Speaker Tresp asserts most positively that they will not be forced to this resort. He thinks a voting quorum will be here certainly on Tuesday at the farthest.

If it cannot be obtained then another Democratic caucus will be called. This is indeed what those who are dissatisfied with the bill are aiming at. They declare that as soon as they can demonstrate that not a sufficient number of Democrats will vote to consider the bill the leaders will be obliged to submit to material modifications which the disgruntled members will propose. Some of the extreme Democrats who are fighting the income tax proposition are willing to go to almost any lengths to eliminate this feature of the bill.

Altogether the prospects are good for a very interesting contest in the house during the coming week. Of course, if the quorum is secured today or tomorrow, the special order will be passed, modified probably to recompense the house for the two days lost since the order was reported, by lengthening the time of the debate to that extent. Once the debate is under way it will proceed to the exclusion of everything else.

Mr. Tarsney of Missouri, member of the ways and means committee, said to an Associated Press reporter last night that if a voting quorum was not secured by Tuesday he would favor the adoption of a rule empowering the speaker to count members to make a quorum. "We must meet revolution with revolution," said he. "If the Democratic members are driven to this resort, it is believed that the Republicans, for self-vindication, would be compelled to support it. The committee work of the house is not fairly under way, as the opening snarl over the tariff has required all the attention of the Democratic leaders of the house, who constitute the chairman of the leading committees."

Only two reports have been presented since the session opened, one from the judiciary committee on Mr. Bailey's bankruptcy bill, and another from the committee on banking and currency on the bill of Mr. Brawley of South Carolina, to remit the 10 per cent tax collectible in the clearinghouse certificates and other forms of private currency issued during the money famine last fall. But with the prospect that the house will be engaged with the routine and the long speeches of the tariff during the coming week, the committee chairmen are expecting to get their associates together and accomplish considerable work.

It is probable that the important bill repealing the 10 per cent tax on state bank issues will be reported from the committee on banking and currency at an early day, and perhaps during the coming week. There is a wide difference of opinion among the Democratic members of the committee as to principle and details of such a measure, and as these differences can not well be reconciled, the general desire in the committee is to report a bill simply repealing the tax and then let the house decide all differences.

The bill of Mr. Cox of Tennessee, which is a brief repeal of the state bank tax, without any effort at regulating future state bank issues, was under consideration at the last meeting of the committee. To some extent it is bidding for favor against the bill of Mr. Springer, chairman of the committee, which removes the tax on certain kinds of state bank issues, secured by government, state or municipal bonds. Mr. Springer thinks the bills do not conflict and might both be reported. It is probable, however, that the simple repeal bill will first be reported, and that the Springer bill will be taken up by the committee later. The ways and means committee have two important tasks before them, one of the final settlement of the terms of the internal revenue branch of the tariff bill, and the other the authorization of bonds to meet the pressing treasury deficit. Mr. Wilson says the bond question will have to wait until the tariff is out of the way. There is little doubt, however, that a bond proposition will emanate from the committee, at an early day, as a majority of the Democratic members of the committee, are known to be ready to adopt a measure on the lines suggested by Secretary Carlisle in his recent report.

On the other hand there is an energetic minority among the Democratic membership of the committee which does not believe in a bond issue. Mr. Bryan believes in coining the seigniorage now in the treasury and Mr. Whiting would either coin the seigniorage or else resort to another issue of notes, something like the old greenbacks, to the extent of $100,000,000, and make these notes payable in coin. These minority views are not likely to receive much consideration, however, when the administration wants bonds and a majority of the Democrats on the committee are favorable to the bond project.

The internal revenue features of the tariff bill will be passed on by the ways and means committee within a day or two, as Messrs. McMillin and Bryan have about completed the draft which is to be submitted to the full Democratic membership of the committee and then to the full committee. The essentials of an income tax, an increased 10 per cent tax on whisky, a tax on playing cards, etc., are well understood, but there remains to be determined the important details of how the income tax shall be levied and collected.

It also remains to be settled whether the internal revenue feature shall be introduced as a part of the tariff bill, now before the house, or as an independent measure. This point may cause much trouble, as there is a very determined opposition, within and without the committee to making the internal revenue feature, including the income tax, an amendment to the general tariff bill and rushing it through with the prestige which would attach to the tariff branch of the bill.

The appropriation committee is making good progress on the large appropriation bills before it, but there is no prospect of an immediate report on any of them. The committee on rivers and harbors will have daily sessions during the week to bring forward the completion of their bill. The military committee is fairly well along on the appropriation bill for the United States military academy. The other committees will do much during the coming week in formulating their work for the session.

The principal item of the senate program for the week has been agreed upon. It is to be the consideration of the federal elections bill, which is to be taken up after the conclusion of the morning business on Tuesday. This program like all other prearrangements in the senate, is subject to a change, but it is believed that it will be practically observed in this instance, except in one contingency.

It is barely possible that the affairs of Hawaii may again demand the attention of the senate to the exclusion of all other subjects for at least a portion of the week. If the government should fail to give explicit denial to the report that Mr. Willis has asked the Dole government to retire in the interest of the queen, there are sure to be a number of resolutions of inquiry introduced, and several very pointed speeches may be expected.

There will in any event be some discussion of Hawaiian affairs over Senator Hoar's resolution inquiring into the expenses and salary of Mr. Blount while on his special mission, and there is a possibility that the Frye resolution, declaring that until the congressional inquiry is completed this government should suspend all effort at interference in the affairs of that country, may be called from the table. The whole matter depends very largely upon the color of the news from the Pacific and the attitude assumed by the administration. If it should become apparent that the Auckland report was not authentic, the senate would be disposed to let the subject alone until the committee on foreign relations can conclude its investigations.

If the federal elections bill be allowed to hold its place on the calendar and to be taken up it will doubtless give rise to some partisan speeches on both sides of the chamber. While it would seem probable that there will be almost, if not quite, a solid party vote against the repeal of the existing laws, there are a great many Republicans too indifferent to the question to exert themselves to the extent of making speeches against it. The opposition will be led by the New England senators, and in this Senators Hoar, Frye and Chandler are expected to take leading parts. There will probably also be speeches from other Republican senators in the debate.

While it is not believed that there will be any factious opposition, or any effort at delay merely for the sake of delay, the bill may drag on for several days or even for two or three weeks, one or two speeches being made on a day and then several days skipped. It is not supposed that there will be a persistent effort to put it through to the exclusion of everything else, as there was in the case of the silver repeal bill. The probabilities are that it will be interlarded with much other business on the part of the senate, and an early adjournment at the end of the week over Sunday.

McKinley's Inauguration.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 8.—Every train arriving in the city is loaded with people coming to attend the second inauguration of Governor McKinley. The prospects are for a big demonstration in the way of a parade of the military and Republican clubs. The Canton guards, from the home of McKinley, are acting as McKinley's personal escort. The inaugural ceremonies proper will take place at noon, to be followed by the parade and a reception in the evening, in the governor's honor.

GROWING IN EXTENT

Brazilian Revolution Spreading Northward.

DE MELLO HAS MANY FRIENDS.

The Northern Provinces Conspiring Against the Government—President Peixoto to Receive Aid From Chili—Skirmishes Still Taking Place in the Vicinity of Rio Janeiro—Yellow Fever Causes Alarm.

PERNAMBUCO, Jan. 8.—Despite all denials to the contrary, the revolutionary movement is spreading from the south through the north, and the insurgents finding friends in the northern provinces who are conspiring against the government, and who are assisting the revolutionary movement in every way possible.

Conspiracies in favor of De Mello and the insurgent cause are cropping out in many parts of the north, where martial law alone seems to prevent a rising similar to that in the south.

The Nitheroy and America are still here on account of dissatisfaction of the crew, especially those who reshipped at higher wages. They now claim they can not get their pay.

Chilians to Aid President Peixoto.

BUENOS AYRES, Jan. 8.—Advices from Montevideo say that officers of ex-President Balmaceda of Chili, who took refuge in Uruguay, and who are at Montevideo, have decided to assist President Peixoto in his struggle against the insurgents in Brazil. The dispatch also says that the Brazilian government troops pillaged Santa Ana before evacuating the town.

FIRING STILL CONTINUES.

Brazilian Affairs as Telegraphed to the London Times.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The Times prints the following dispatch from Rio Janeiro, dated Jan. 4, via Montevideo, Jan. 7:

Admiral Da Gama still holds out, stating that he expected the Aquidauan and Republica with reinforcements tomorrow from the south. He appears confident of the ultimate result, and received £12,000 on Saturday from sympathizers in order to pay his men.

The diplomats have refused to recognize the belligerent status of the insurgents, on the grounds that the provisional government has not a sufficient standing.

Admiral Chaves, the minister of marine, resigned his office on account of differences of opinion with President Peixoto regarding the imprisonment and general treatment of the naval officers suspected of sympathy with the insurgents. His successor, Admiral Meatto, is considered honest, though he has no special ability.

The past week has been uneventful. There was some skirmishing in the vicinity of Moengue and occasional firing along the shore front of the city. The forts at the mouth of the harbor, which have been silent for the past week, have begun firing again. The cruiser Tamandare fired a few shots daily at the batteries of the Nitheroy, the latter replying.

The government continues mounting artillery on the heights within the city limits and is awaiting the arrival of the new warships before attacking Admiral Da Gama.

The causes Nitheroy, America and Aurora are still at Pernambuco, the latter being without a crew.

The news from Desterro states that there is some divergence of opinion among the insurgent leaders on account of the appointments of the provisional government.

Several cases of Yellow Jack have occurred on board merchant vessels and also in the city, and it is feared that a continuance of the intense heat will bring a severe epidemic.

On Wednesday the insurgents attacked Engenho Island, opening fire from the ships at midday. At 7 o'clock they landed 200 men, and for half an hour there was sharp fighting. After a light check, they captured a Krupp field piece and a 70-pounder Whitworth. The government loss was 18 killed and five wounded, and five officers and 63 men and 25 civilians were taken prisoners. The insurgent loss was two killed and five wounded.

SENSATIONAL MURDER.

A Young Man Instantly Killed For Refusing to Marry a Pretty Chorus Girl.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—A sensational murder occurred here Sunday afternoon. Harry G. Pool, a young man well known about town, and of a well-to-do family, was shot and almost instantly killed by Mrs. Shattuck, the aged mother of Estralla Shattuck, a young and pretty chorus girl, at the Tivoli Opera House, who severed connection with the Tivoli company Saturday night, and was to have left the city this morning with Henderson's Subud company.

Young Pool was summoned to Miss Shattuck's home on Stevenson street yesterday morning, where the girl's mother met him and demanded that he marry Miss Shattuck at once. Pool refused, and Mrs. Shattuck put a pistol to his temple and shot him dead. The woman was arrested for murder and is now a raving maniac at the city prison. The girl is also in hysterics and unable to talk.

Murder Over Ten Cents.

MOUNT STERLING, Ky., Jan. 8.—At Deep Bottom, a place near here, Will Conner, colored, stabbed Tom Hunt, colored, twice, near the heart, severing a blood vessel, from which he died instantly. The trouble arose over a game of craps. Conner claimed Hunt owed him 10 cents, which the latter denied. Great excitement prevailed for a time, but Conner was finally jailed.

JUDGE LINDSAY was the unanimous choice of the Democratic Legislative caucus to succeed himself in the U. S. Senate. The sentiment for him throughout the State was overwhelming, and others who had been spoken of wisely remained out of the contest. Kentucky is to be congratulated on the result.

The Dayton Times says the fact that the price of wheat in "freetrade" Canada is higher than it is just across the border in the highly protected United States is a "sackdolager" to those McKinleyites who have sought to delude farmers into the belief that a tariff of 25 cents per bushel on wheat would be a big thing for wheat growers in this country. The talk of a tariff being a good thing for the farmer is about the clearest case of "pulling wool over the eyes" that this generation has yet seen. The truth is that McKinleyism is a fraud and calculated only to help the rich and sharp to take advantage of the poor and less informed among the people.

The Court sustained them and dismissed the petitions. The next step will be to enter the suits in the Circuit Courts of the counties where the association do business.

Looking After the Coal Traffic.
 That the Chesapeake and Ohio people are looking after the coal traffic is shown from the fact that Chief Engineer Frazier of the C. and O. says that track has been laid during the year 1893 on extensions and branches as follows: South Side extension, from Thurmond, W. Va., to coal mines, 6.5 miles; Keeney's Creek branch, Nuttall, W. Va., to coal mines, 5.5 miles; Loup Creek branch, from Thurmond, W. Va., to coal mines, 10 miles; Gauley branch, from Gauley Junction to Belva, W. Va., 7 1/2 miles; Twenty-five mile branch, from Belva, W. Va., to coal mines, 8 miles. In addition, 8 1/2 miles of track was laid on the Buckingham branch in Virginia, completing that line from Bremo to Rosney.

GOVERNOR PECK'S OPINION.

He Says the Doctrines of the A. P. A. Are Un-American—Dangerous to the Country.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 4.—Governor Peck has placed himself upon record as denouncing the American Protective Association. The editor of the Catholic Citizen, of this city, recently wrote to the Governor to learn his views on the objects of the association, and the methods it is employing to advance its interest. Governor Peck's reply is as follows:
Editor Catholic Citizen—Dear Sir: Your letter asking for my opinion of the organization known as the American Protective Association received. The organization is one which ought to be and will be condemned by every true American citizen. So far from representing true Americanism, the doctrines of the organization are thoroughly un-American, and if the association is successful in its aims will strike a deep blow at the liberties of our country. Any organization which would deprive men of citizenship for conscience sake must be condemned as outrageous in itself and dangerous to the welfare of the country. This association appears to be a revival of the old Know-Nothing Party of several years ago. That such an organization can succeed is impossible. Its objects are so thoroughly antagonistic to that high sense of justice which lies deep in every American heart that as soon as they are thoroughly known it will be driven out of existence. The people of the country will show their disapproval of it in as emphatic a manner as they did their distaste to the principles of the Bennett law. Yours very truly,
 GEORGE W. PECK.

THE OYSTER'S ENEMY.

The Borer Pest Has Played Havoc With the Bivalves This Season.

The "borer," a pest about the size of a small strawberry, is working great havoc among the oyster beds in Delaware bay and tributary streams. Captain Moses Veale of the oyster schooner White Lily says that the destructive powers of the borer have been known to oystermen only a few years. He had followed oyster digging nearly 35 years, and the first borer he saw was about 10 years ago, but their ravages in the oyster beds were comparatively unnoticed until last year.

Captain Veale said that "last year the number of dead oysters with holes made by borers in the shell became so great that oystermen were alarmed. This year the work of the borers has become a grave matter, and if it continues many bays will become depopulated of oysters. From one bed we dredged on this trip we got 1,200 baskets of oysters, but out of these only 200 were good, the dead oysters having been killed by borers. A peculiar thing about the ravages of the borers is their apparent selection of the best oyster beds. We have found this to be true several times this season. We have found a bed of small oysters almost entirely free from borers. This bed will be separated from another bed of larger oysters by 200 feet, but this latter will be so badly affected by the creatures that it will hardly pay to work it.

"From what I can learn from oystermen the destruction wrought by borers is more severe in Delaware bay than in other places.

"The work of the borer this year makes a double misfortune, for the oyster beds were badly damaged by the big storm in August and September. Very few people who are not in the oyster dredging business know anything of the methods of the borer. When I first took notice of its work, I secured several oysters just after the borer had fastened itself to the shell. When the borer fastens itself, it holds on like a leech, and it is with difficulty that it can be removed with the fingers.

"Sometimes the borer fastens itself to the oyster shell near the edge, and then the oyster is not killed. When the hole of the borer is made near the center of the shell, the oyster is attacked in its vital parts and dies in three or four days after the hole is first made."

Some of the bed owners near Maurice river have lost large sums of money this year on account of the borer. Thomas Munsey, who has a number of large beds, it is said, will lose $10,000. Several other men have lost nearly as much through this unlooked for calamity, and a number of men have lost in the neighborhood of $2,000 or $3,000. All oystermen say there can be no way of taking away the borer without destroying the oyster beds.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Railroad Traffic During the Fair.

So far as the figures at hand go they show that the number of people brought into Chicago by the 21 passenger lines entering here during the fair period were in round numbers 3,335,000. This allows 350,000 for the five leading passenger lines, 300,000 each for the five next following, 150,000 each for the next group of five, and 50,000 each for the six weak lines. Allowing each of these passengers to have visited the fair five times would account for an attendance of 16,755,000, which would be a good proportion of outside visitors. It would leave but a little over 5,000,000 visits from Chicagoans.—Chicago News.

Testing a Ducking Stool.

An ancient ducking stool for scolding wives is still preserved at Fordwich, England. The other day some antiquarians, anxious to test the apparatus, found a youth who was willing to don female attire and go through the ordeal. The apparatus speedily ducked the lad into the river, but refused to pull him out again, and but for timely assistance he would have been drowned.—London Letter.

TURNPIKE TOLLS.

The Last Legislature Passed an Act Regulating the Rate.

Penalties Provided Against Directors and Other Officers and Gate-Keepers.

[The following article appeared in the BULLETIN a few weeks ago, and it is again published, by request.]

It is not generally known that the last Legislature passed an act regulating the rates of toll on all turnpikes, but such is a fact. And the act provides rather heavy penalties for any violation of its provisions.

The act says "these rates are for gates standing five miles apart, and in that proportion for a less distance, but when there is a fraction of a road of a mile or more, less than five miles, toll may be charged at the gate next thereto for the fraction in the proportion that its length bears to five miles."

GENERAL TRAVELING.

For every horse or mule and rider..... 5c
For a horse, mule or jack, led or driven..... 3c
For each head of cattle..... 2c
For each head of hogs..... 1c
For each head of sheep..... 1c
For each vehicle drawn by one horse or mule..... 10c
For each vehicle drawn by two horses, mules or oxen..... 20c

For each pleasure carriage or hackney coach drawn by two horses or mules..... 25c
For the same when drawn by four horses or mules..... 30c
For each sleigh drawn by one or two horses or mules..... 15c

For each wagon drawn by three horses, mules or oxen..... 30c
For same drawn by four animals..... 40c
For same drawn by five animals..... 50c
For same drawn by six animals..... 60c

But empty wagons, or such as have no other loading than provender for the team, shall pay only half these rates.

For each stage coach having seats within for six passengers..... 35c
For same for nine passengers..... 55c
For same for twelve passengers..... 75c
And 2c. addition for every passenger over four.

For each traction or other engine..... $1

BROAD-TREAD OR TIRE

For each wagon with four animals, of four-inch tread or over..... 35c
For same with five animals..... 50c
For same with six animals..... 60c

NEIGHBORHOOD TRAIL OR HAULING WITH COMMON TIRE OR TREAD.

For each wagon or cart drawn by two animals, and loaded with nothing but the produce of the farm, for a trip, going and returning..... 35c
For same drawn by three animals..... 45c
For same drawn by four animals..... 55c
For same drawn by five animals..... 65c
For same drawn by six animals..... $1

NEIGHBORHOOD HAULING WITH BROAD-TREAD.

For each wagon loaded as above, drawn by four animals, for each trip..... 50c
For same drawn by five animals..... 60c
For same drawn by six animals..... 70c

When less rates than the above are charged the reduction shall be made equal upon all rates.

The act also specifies that when any part of a turnpike or gravel road is within the corporate limits of any city or town and is kept in repair by such city or town, then no toll shall be charged for travel thereon.

No corporation shall charge, exact or receive any toll greater than or in excess of the tolls authorized to be charged by its charter when the tolls authorized to be charged by such charter are less or lower than those prescribed by this act.

The managers of any road in which the State (or county) has an interest shall permit Ministers of the Gospel to travel on the road without paying toll when on Ministerial duty, and shall charge no toll against scholars going to or from school, or persons who are going to or from their accustomed places of worship, or funeral processions going to or from place of burial. But if any other person than scholars going to or from school, and the driver, shall occupy a vehicle, full toll shall be charged.

If the President and Directors of any turnpike company shall fail or refuse to perform the duties required by this law, they shall be fined in a sum not less than $100 each, and made jointly and severally liable therefor, recoverable by indictment, for the use of the Commonwealth.

If any tollgate keeper of any turnpike or gravel road charge a greater rate of toll than that fixed and prescribed by this law he shall be fined $10 for each offense; and if the corporate authorities or owners of any such road authorize a greater rate, they shall be fined $50 for every excessive charge made by their authority.

To secure the enforcement of this law, the first step is to go before the nearest Magistrate and swear out a warrant against the gate-keeper if he charges more than the rates named.

All laws or parts of laws in conflict with the act repealed.

SERVICES will be held in the chapel of the Christian Church every night this week, conducted by the pastor, Rev. E. B. Calk. To-night, Tuesday night and Wednesday night the services will commence at 7:30 o'clock; on Thursday, Friday and Saturday night the services will begin at 7 o'clock. The public cordially invited.

WHO IS ANITA VERNON?

A Strange Story Told by a Girl Who Claims She Was Born in Maysville.

The Cincinnati Enquirer published a special Sunday from Hot Springs, which says: "Anita Vernon, a young woman of twenty years, was found on Hot Springs Mountain Saturday by two Texans, who were out for a walk. She was lying exhausted under a pine tree, and after being revived told this remarkable story: Born at Maysville, Ky.; when ten years old she went to Cleveland and lived at 12 Jersey street. Her father having been drowned on the lake last fall, she went to New York, where she met Walter Evans, a medical student, who loved her, but whom she did not love. He abducted her in a cab one night in December and drugged her. Evans brought her to Malvern, Ark., twenty miles from Hot Springs, and drove her to a lonely cabin, where she was locked in a room and held captive, being guarded by a colored woman. Evans visited her every night and she made his slave. The old colored woman handed her bread and tea through the door, but always kept it locked.

"Evans told her he loved her madly and as she refused to marry him in New York, he made up his mind to have her anyway. Day after day she sat in that lonely room, with nobody to talk to except the old colored woman. She cried nearly all the time, but was told she had to stay there all winter. There was no way of escape unless the colored woman happened to leave the door open some time, and Wednesday night this is what she did after handing in the girl's supper.

"Anita observed her carelessness, and after a few minutes softly opened it and ran. The colored woman was drunk in a chair. Anita left the house, and had walked two days and nights in the mountains when found. The police were not notified at the girl's urgent request, to avoid publicity, and the Texans bought her a ticket to St. Louis, where she said she had friends."

If Anita was born in this city the name she gave is an assumed one. No family by the name of Vernon has ever resided in Maysville, so far as known.

TRAIN-WRECKERS.

They Make an Unsuccessful Attempt on the C. and O.'s Fast Express Near South Portsmouth.

A special from Portsmouth says an unsuccessful attempt was made one night last week to wreck the C. and O.'s fast express a mile west of South Portsmouth. The matter was kept quiet for several days. Detectives are at work on the case.

The point selected to make the attempt was in every way favorable. Thick clumps of bushes on either side served as a shield for the wreckers, and a sharp curve in the track was depended on to hide the obstruction, a pile of heavy ties and three broken pieces of broken rails. Beneath the ties the wreckers had spread the rails. Had the train been bowling along at its usual speed, nothing could have prevented a most disastrous wreck, but very fortunately, just before the curve was reached some part of the machinery of the engine seemed to be working badly, and the engineer turned on the air-brakes until he could see what was wrong.

He had no more than brought the train to a slow pace than he glanced out and caught a glimpse of the obstruction about the curve. A full head of air was turned on and the train stopped with the nose of the pilot on the death-laden obstruction. Without alarming the passengers, the trainmen managed to clear the track and pull over it. A hammerless revolver and a crow-bar were found at the side of the track.

MR. THOMAS PENDERGRAST, aged about twenty years, died last night at 10 o'clock at the home of his father, Mr. James Pendergrast who lives on Judge Whitaker's farm near this city. He had been ill but a few days, of typhoid fever. A sister of deceased is very sick, suffering from same disease. The funeral occurs at St. Patrick's Church at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

SOME miscreant entered the M. E. Church at Manchester Friday night and amused himself by breaking the chandeliers and demolishing the organ. Of late the minister and flock have been making vigorous war against the vices existing within the city limits, and it is supposed that by so doing they incurred the enmity of some, who adopted this method of getting even.

IN the United States Court at Frankfort Saturday, Judge Barr rendered a decision in the case of Bank heirs vs. Pine Mountain Coal and Iron Company and others, involving the title to 50,000 acres of land in Bell and Knox counties. The plaintiffs were claiming under a Virginia patent, but the court decided against them on the question of jurisdiction. An appeal will probably be taken. The company is just on the eve of selling 20,000 acres of the land involved for $500,000.

CHILD KIDNAPED.

A Queer Case Attracting the Attention of the Cleveland Authorities.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 8.—A queer case is attracting the attention of the authorities here. Saturday a man named Richard Hanson, claiming to live in Buffalo, secured possession by habeas corpus of a 4-year-old child whom he called Ella Hanson. The girl was living with a widower named John B. Benoit. Hanson claimed that his wife, who deserted him a year ago, had lived here with Benoit, and that when she died a month ago, the body was shipped to Buffalo under the name of Mrs. Benoit, her child being left here.

The little one was taken into court on a writ of habeas corpus. After a hearing, Hanson was given the custody of her and he left, as he said, to go to Buffalo. Benoit was not notified of the proceedings. Now he declares that the girl was his own daughter, Ella, and not Hanson's child; that he never lived with Mrs. Hanson; that he never before heard of Hanson, and that it was his own wife's body which was sent to Buffalo. Benoit says his child has been kidnaped and he has requested the Buffalo police to arrest the man. A dispatch from Buffalo states that no such man as Richard Hanson is known there.

Didn't Know He Killed Her.

ROMNEY, W. Va., Jan. 8.—Michael Miller, a son-in-law of Mrs. Joseph Leatherman, and who lives in the same house with Mrs. Leatherman, arose early to go hunting. Before starting he oiled his rifle and made all preparations; then to be sure the gun was working properly, throw the cartridge out. In doing this the gun was discharged, and the bullet, passing through the partition, struck Mrs. Leatherman fairly in the heart, killing her instantly. Miller did not know what he had done, and went on to the woods. Mrs. Leatherman being discovered later in the day by her daughter.

Disfigured For Life.

DENVER, Jan. 8.—Christopher Zuchich, a 19-year-old Egyptian, was picked up in the street Saturday night, half frozen. Zuchich, who is the runaway son of a wealthy merchant at Port Said, was with a band of gypsies on the Midway during the world's fair. Friday he boarded a limited express at Chicago intending to beat his way to the midwinter fair at San Francisco. Being penniless, he rode on the "blind end" of the baggage car, and as he was thinly clad and unused to the bitter cold on the plains, he was so badly frozen that he will be disfigured for life.

A Woman Frightfully Burned.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Mrs. Cora Brady was fatally burned last night because of a quarrel with James Delaney. He threw a lighted kerosene lamp at her, and it exploded on her breast. The entire upper portion of her body was frightfully burned.

HARDWARE STORE BLOWN UP.

A Whole Town Shaken Up and Considerable Damage Done.

FLINT, Mich., Jan. 8.—The hardware store of J. B. Wilson was blown up by a terrific explosion at 2:20 o'clock Sunday morning. The building was unroofed and completely gutted, and the fronts of nearly all the other stores in the block were blown out. The explosion shook the whole town, and strewed debris far and wide.

It is believed that the explosion, which was immediately succeeded by fire, took place in the rear part of the store and that it was caused by the explosion of a quantity of turpentine. Wilson's loss is $8,000, half covered by insurance. A half dozen other stores in the block were badly racked and many windows in the neighborhood were broken. The total loss will probably reach $15,000. The majority of individual losses are fully covered by insurance.

MURDER WILL OUT.

A St. Louis Mystery Solved by Two Colored Boys.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 8.—On May 20, last, Benjamin M. McCullough, paying teller of the Missouri State bank, was murdered at his home in Woodstock, a suburb of this city. All efforts to find his murderer proved unavailing.

James and Edward Murray, two colored youths in jail at Clayton, St. Louis county, charged with the murder of Conductor Fitzsimmons, have just made a statement in which they charge George Kirby, alias Charles Williams, with the murder. They have attached their names to warrants for Kirby's arrest for his crime. Kirby is at present serving a two years' sentence in the penitentiary at Jefferson City for larceny.

Murder Caused by Jealousy.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Mrs. Maud Bond, made a desperate attempt to take the life of Mrs. Mary Gardner yesterday by shooting her three times with a revolver. Jealousy was the cause of Mrs. Bond's act. At 8 o'clock yesterday she went to the residence of Mrs. Gardner on West Chicago avenue. "I'm going to kill you," cried Mrs. Bond excitedly, the moment Mrs. Gardner confronted her. She at once commenced to fire rapidly at Mrs. Gardner. Three bullets struck her and she cannot live. Mrs. Bond gave herself up.

Father Kills His Son.

ELGIN, Ill., Jan. 8.—Clark Burr, one of the wealthiest farmers in this vicinity, killed his son, Charles, with a shotgun last evening in a quarrel, growing out of the latter's taking music lessons. The young man, who was 17 years of age, was endeavoring to draw a revolver when the father fired. The coroner released him in bonds of $10,000 which was promptly furnished by his neighbors.

No Miners' Conference.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 8.—There will be no conference between the coal operators and miners on the district wage question, on the request made to President Fry, of the Miners' union, by four companies that are now paying less than 65 cents per ton for mining. The officials of the miners' union reached this decision. There are at present less than 10 operators in this district who are not paying the full price.

Murdered and Robbed.

IRVING STATION, Mich., Jan. 8.—Leroy R. Rogers, a retired business man, was found murdered in his home Sunday. He lived alone and it is supposed the murder was committed Saturday night by a burglar. So far as it is known the murderer secured nothing but a watch.

Vienna is of nearly circular form, being 12 miles in circumference. The old city, or city proper, is, however, scarcely three miles round. It was formerly inclosed by fortifications. Immediately outside of these was a wide esplanade called the Glacis, which has been elegantly built up and is called Ringstrasse, one of the most splendid streets in the world.—Brooklyn Eagle.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.
